Two Legislative Acts Nullified By Court Decree

Legislative Reapportionment Act Of 1937 Is Held As Unconstitutional

LIQUOR FLOOR TAX IS ALSO NULLIFIED

Decisions Are Given By Dauphin County Court—Have Wide Effect

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, March 4.—Two controversial enactments of the Pennsylvania legislature—the liquor floor tax act of 1937 and the legislative reapportionment act of 1937—were nullified today by the Dauphin county court.

The first case involves millions of dollars in taxes sought by the Commonwealth; the second, in the midst of a primary election campaign, requires that nominations and elections for the house of representatives be conducted under the act of 1937. It returns the house to a body of 100 members.

Both opinions were written by President Judge William M. Harpster. He found that the legislative reapportionment act of 1937 particularly affected Bucks, Montgomery, Chester and Erie counties unfairly. It was from Bucks county that the test suit case was brought by Lester B. Shoemaker of Tullytown.

The reapportionment decision en-

Abandon Hope For Nine Lost On Plane

(International News Service)
FRESNO, Cal., March 4.—An augmented armada was to take to the air again today and search the snow-clad Sierra Nevada for the W. A. passenger plane lost in the mountains since Tuesday night with six passengers and three crew members.

Virtually all hope of finding the nine persons alive has been abandoned.

After flying his own plane over a wide area in the vicinity of Huntington and Shaver Lakes, where the luxurious skyliner is believed wrecked, Jack Frye, T. W. A. president, said:

"I am convinced the missing plane is down in the vicinity of Castle Peak or Huntington Lake. I am afraid those in the plane are dead."

Castle Peak is nine miles west of Huntington Lake and about 35 miles east of Fresno.

Twelve local planes and five U. S. army bombers from Hamilton field were slated to assist in today's hunt. It was possible that 25 planes from Los Angeles, offered by Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz of the southern metropolis, would join the search later.

A low ceiling prevented the searching planes to remain in the air for more than an hour yesterday.

A dozen ground crews, equipped with skis, continued their search this morning, but reported no clues as to the plane's location had been uncovered.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—President Roosevelt completes his fifth year in the White House today.

The years of the new deal have taken their toll. His hair is thinner and grayer about the temples. There are lines in his face that were not there five years ago this fourth of March. But the quick smile and the hearty laugh remain. He does not take things too seriously.

(International News Service)
TUCSON, Ariz., March 4.—Gen. John J. Pershing, greatly improved in his fight against death, feels "so good that he expects to get out of bed and dress today," it was disclosed by his physician, Dr. Roland Davidson.

Pershing issued an order last night to his aide, Sgt. C. C. Shaeffer, to "have my clothes ready in the morning." Shaeffer didn't argue with the general. He merely said: "Your clothes will be ready, sir."

Shaeffer, however, didn't say when the clothes would be ready.

May Never Get Out
Dr. Davidson said it would be many days—if ever—before Pershing could get out of bed, despite the warrior's personal belief that he has conquered his illness.

Early today Dr. Davidson said: "The general made satisfactory progress during the night, but the condition of his heart still gives us concern."

"We cannot yet say that he will make a complete recovery—that turning point has yet to come."

Blood examinations have showed further reduction of uremic poisoning.

Before going to sleep last night, Pershing asked for the newspaper to read. Dr. Davidson replied that he was not letting him read anything.

By PAUL GALICO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., March 4.—Out of the welter of lips, clues, crank letters, crackpot phone calls, mystery men, gibberish chalk writing on elevated poles, notes found in vacant lots under tin cans there is today only one salient fact as to the disappearance of 12-year-old Peter Levine between school and home in New Rochelle, entered upon its second week.

That fact is that up to last night, Murray Levine lawyer, and father of the vanished boy had no means of contacting possible kidnappers of his son except through the medium of the press and the radio. No private channels of communication had been opened to him.

Reports Unconfirmed
Unconfirmed are reports that a friend or representative of Levine talked over the telephone last night with men believed to be the kidnapers.

And at an early hour this morning the situation at the Levine house was reported unchanged. And while federal and local authorities have withdrawn from the case Levine has promised to advise them of the return of the boy.

A special delivery letter postmarked at 9:03 from New York was reported to have been received at the Levine home shortly after midnight last night.

In contrast to previous nights when lights on the lower floor of the house burned all through the night, last night the house of tragedy was dark except for one light on the second floor in the left wing.

No Room On Pennsylvania Highways For Intoxicated Driver Says Governor

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, March 4.—There is no room on Pennsylvania's highways for the drunken driver, Gov. George H. Earle let it be known today.

The chief executive issued orders effective immediately that any motorists suspected of being intoxicated be examined by a physician, giving a hearing by the department of revenue, and if found guilty their privilege revoked for six months.

A physician's certificate will be sufficient, the governor said to cause the revocation of any license. The doctor making the examination will not have to appear at the hearing.

"Effective immediately, all motorists giving evidence of being under the influence of liquor will be taken immediately by the Pennsylvania motor police to the nearest reputable physician for examination," the governor warned. He warned against attempts of "fixing" by local authorities.

Fallen Soviet Leaders Admit Rebellious Plots

By JAMES E. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW, March 4.—Showing for the first time the strain of their trial and imprisonment, the 21 fallen Soviet leaders today connected Poland and Britain to their rebellious plots as the torrent of self-reveling continued.

"I became a traitor in 1921, and I remained an traitor until the moment of my arrest," came haltingly from P. A. Sharganovich, former secretary of the White Russian Communist party.

A tragically picturesque figure, tall, husky, and clad in a Russian blouse, Sharganovich admitted that he had been closely associated with the Polish general staff. Territories of Poland and White Russia are contiguous.

He also confessed he "wanted" to kill Klement Voroshilov, Soviet defense commissar, and carried out wrecking activities in agriculture and the cattle breeding industry.

"Ruthless taxation was imposed," said Sharganovich, "to breed discontent among the peasants."

Mutual implications by the defendants moved on space as Fay-sulla Khodakov, former premier of Uzbekistan, testified that he and Alexei I. Rykov, ex-Soviet premier, "plotted against the U. S. S. R."

Rykov, said the witness, guaranteed the independence of the Czech republic, under dependence of England.

Slumped in his chair, his hair whitened by nearly a year in the Lubyanka prison, whether he confessed so many others, Henry G.

Love Balm Suit Is Nearing Jury

SEALED VERDICT MAY BE RETURNED

(International News Service)
STEUBENVILLE, O., March 4.—Arguments of counsel, limited to one hour for each side will be heard today in the $100,000 breach of promise suit of Mrs. Cora Lillian Buttram against the Rev. Harold C. Zies before the case is given to the jury of 12 men.

Federal Judge Mel G. Underwood, who has been hearing the action, will leave for Columbus after charging the jury and instructing them to return a sealed verdict, which will not be opened until 11 a. m. Monday, if a verdict is reached before that time.

Wind up of the suit saw the portly Episcopalian minister on the stand proclaiming his love for the attractive 43-year old New York divorcee.

"There is no question in the world I was in love with her," the reverend said. "I always loved her, but she refused to marry me. She wanted me to be a bishop."

Mrs. Burnham had testified that the only reason the marriage was held up was the eagerness of the clergyman to obtain special dispensation from Bishop Lincoln Rogers of the Ohio Episcopal diocese.

Episcopal clerics are not allowed to wed divorcees except where adultery on the part of the other person is proven.

By RALPH B. JORDAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, March 4.—Over the deluge a bright sun rose today, to warm and dry stricken Southern California, as 240 miles of famous and wealthy coastline cities and countryside counted a terrific human and property storm toll and fought a new menace of looting.

To Shoot Looters
Looters were met alone by police authorities armed with rifles and sawed-off shotguns and with instructions to shoot to kill.

Destruction to municipal property in Los Angeles alone will amount to $3,028,000, according to City Engineer Lloyd Aldrich.

Private property losses and damage in other storm-struck communities will mount into millions more.

Reports that looting had broken out in sections populated principally by farm stars caused authorities to issue "shoot to kill" orders to halt thievery.

REARMAMENT IS BEING SPEEDED UP

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent
LONDON, March 4.—Great Britain today presented her bowing taxpayers with a $1,708,545,000 bill for defense of these islands in a swiftly rearming world.
With defense as the major item, the country probably faces the staggering sum of two billion dollars for the 1938-39 total governmental budget.
The major portion of the navy will be taken from the defense budget, and the navy's case $150,000,000 for 1938-39.
The supplementary estimates will be required for new ship construction.

Sixty New Warships.
A white paper issued Wednesday said that during the fiscal year beginning April 1, 60 new warships will be commissioned, representing more than 130,000 tons.
Two battleships, one aircraft carrier, four large and three small cruisers, three submarines and three mine layers are to be laid down this coming year.

The white paper said expenditures will be over greater in 1939, which is expected to be the peak year of the rearmament program. The total forecast is $1,758,550,000.

Strives For Peace.
While aiming for possible war, Britain strove for peace as Ambassador Sir Neville Henderson brought the current message to Adolf Hitler in Berlin that Britain looked to Germany to cooperate in pacification of Europe.

Speaking for Prime Minister Chamberlain, Sir Neville urged Hitler to consider an all-around settlement, including the questions of colonies, German minorities in Czechoslovakia and Austria-German relations.
The ambassador insisted that Britain is not trying to drive a wedge between Italy and Germany.
Hitler is expected to state his "minimum demands" to Sir Neville, and later on Viscount Halifax, new foreign secretary, will go to Berlin for direct negotiations.

Three-piece suits are expected to be the leaders in the spring.

TWO LEGISLATIVE ACTS NULLIFIED BY COURT DECREE

joined Secretary of the Commonwealth David L. Lawrence from issuing nomination petitions, receiving nomination papers, certifying nominations or elections, and "from any other act for the holding of an election for members of general assembly in counties or districts as established by said act." The decree was entered into with 10 days for filing of objections else it becomes final.
Judge Hargest found the act discriminated voters in at least 10 communities and violated other provisions of the state constitution.

Violation Of Constitution.
The liquor floor tax act, which imposed a state levy upon all liquor held in distilleries, warehouses at the time of repeal, was held in violation of the due process of the federal constitution and the tax uniformity clause of the state constitution.
The court pointed out there was no severable provision in the floor tax act which would allow valid portions to stand.

Judge Hargest's decision there reversed directed verdicts favoring the commonwealth in the amount of $9,177,885 for the three firms. Millions more were indirectly involved in the suits, however, the figure has been estimated as high as $20,000,000.

To the commonwealth's contention that the floor tax was a "specific tax" rather than a property tax dependent upon value, the court held that "uniformity is required of specific taxes as well as any other kind of taxes." It ruled that the floor tax was a property tax.

Ticking In Head Puzzles Doctors

Boy 13, Submits To Many Examinations To Find Out Why

(International News Service)
ATLANTA, Ga., March 4.—Despite their thorough examination with otoscopes, stethoscopes, and even flashlight, Fulton county's leading medical authorities today were unable to agree on what causes the rhythmic "tick-tack" in the head of 13-year-old Jack Grant, Jr.
Jack, a Boy Scout of Stockbridge, Ga., gave doctors a field day at a meeting and clinic of the Fulton county medical association here last night.

The medics listened to the rhythmic "ticking" through stethoscopes, they examined his ears with otoscopes, they peeped down his throat, and they even tried to pick up the ticking—which can be heard with the natural ear at a distance of from three to fifteen inches—with a radio loudspeaker, but the apparatus failed to work.

One doctor said the ticking was caused by the pulsation of the blood in the inner ear.
Another opined it was a contraction of the muscles.

Others believed it was a rhythmic opening and closing of the eustachian tubes leading from the throat to the ear.
In the whole group, the 13-year-old patient, who says he can not remember when the ticking in his head first started, was the least disturbed of all. He sat calmly in his chair and submitted to all requests as the medics made their thorough examination.

FLOOD DAMAGE IN CALIFORNIA TO TOTAL MILLIONS

officers routed three men who were stripping a sumptuous home. The men fled.

Camp Is Hard Hit.
Among the new scenes of disaster, according to reports received here, was Camp Baldy, where at least two lives were believed lost.

Waters racing through San Antonio canyon washed away the camp's dining hall and several cottages. Two hundred persons reportedly were marooned at the camp 80 miles up in the mountains east of Los Angeles.

Homes of 1500 in the Los Angeles area were made uninhabitable by the high waters. Mrs. Esther Chadburn, Red Cross field representative, reported.

Disrupted communication and transportation facilities hampered accurate checks as to the number of dead and missing and retarded progress of clearing away debris.

11.06 Inches of Rain.
The unprecedented storm, which left a total of 11.06 inches in Los Angeles, had passed northward. Only cloudiness and snow in the mountains were forecast for today.

Coroner Frank Nance reported he officially had recorded ten deaths in Los Angeles county. Among the dead at Riverside four were said to be children. Five persons were missing there. Fifteen were killed at Anaheim. Riverside reported six known dead. San Bernardino was the scene of seven deaths.

The city hall was isolated. Relief and rescue work was headed by the Red Cross, the American Legion, and personnel of March field, near-by army air base.

The Santa Ana river overflowed north of the city, forcing hundreds of persons from their homes.

Riverside was without light and power for a 22-hour period.

Weather Indication.
For today, the weather man promises:
"Los Angeles and vicinity:
"Fair Friday and Saturday with some cloudiness; show over mountains. Moderate temperature; moderate fresh to northwest wind."
Only .56 of an inch of rain fell during the 29-hour period ended at 9:30 p. m. yesterday, bringing the season's total to 22.09. Normal rainfall for the city at this time of the year is 11.20.

The Los Angeles city council appropriated $25,000 to be used by City Engineer Lloyd Aldrich and the board of public works in clearing streets and generally rehabilitating the city.

It was necessary to dynamite the football boulevard bridge over San Antonio wash at Claremont to release huge piles of debris that had caused waters to back up on the campuses at Pomona and Scripps colleges.

Malibu Isolated.
Malibu continued in isolation. It was the same in Pajaro canyon. Food supplies were reported running low. Residents were boiling water taken from pools. There was no milk for the children.

Los Flores canyon also was reported hard hit.
Having just completed his fourth year in the aquarium in Sydney, Australia, Skipper IV, a grey "murphy" sharp, is estimated to have swum 105,120 miles in captivity.

Interrupted transportation by land caused the U. S. Coast Guard Cutter Itasca to carry mail between San Diego and San Pedro.

Reports came from the U. S. S. Oklahoma that a huge drift of debris, dangerous to navigation, was located seven miles off San Pedro light.

Ship shore service was resumed between the fleet and San Pedro. Lumina and Harbor City dug from under silt. Both communities suffered heavy damage.

Reports of looting in Santa Monica canyon caused Sheriff Eugene W. Beaulieu to dispatch two radio cars to that district.

"If you catch anyone looting down there, bring them in—try to capture them alive, if you can—but bring them in," Beaulieu ordered.

Extra police details were sent to the flood swept San Fernando valley to search in the mud for bodies.

Both Reported Safe.
Fears expressed over George Marshall, director, and Madeline Carroll, actress, both of 20th Century Fox studios, reported missing in the flood Wednesday, were over. Both reported they were safe.

Flood waters from the usually placid Santa Ana river wreaked the toll of death and destruction in Anaheim and Riverside. At San Bernardino it was Little Creek that caused death and damage and almost hourly in and around Los Angeles bodies were being recovered.

They were taken principally from the Los Angeles river and Big Pajaro wash.

Los Angeles, fifth largest city in America, remained isolated by rail, a condition that will exist for another 24 hours, according to railway officials.

Southern Californians in other sections went without a forecast—the wires were down.

Care For 6,000 Refugees.
Approximately 6,000 refugees were either being cared for in the Los Angeles metropolitan area or being returned to their once-inundated homes.

Waters in all streams were slowly receding. Utility services were functioning at normal in most parts of the metropolitan area.

It was a far different situation at the new flood points. As a result of its rampage, the Santa Ana river reopened a channel through which it ran 50 years ago, near Wood.

Scores of homes were crushed as a six-foot wall of water came thundering down the river which widened to seven miles just below Anaheim.

Riverside reported that the Red Cross had the situation well in hand there.

Crushes Houses.
George Meiser, packing plant executive, was the first Santa Ana resident to reach the outside world. He said from six to eight inches of water stood in stores of Santa Ana main streets, and 18 inches in the high school.

"When that wall of water came crashing down the river it crushed houses like eggshells," Meiser said, upon reaching Fullerton.

Meiser reported when he left Santa Ana, approximately 100 persons were perched on rooftops awaiting rescue.
San Gabriel Dam No. 1, completed only last fall, withstood its first baptism of raging torrents in great shape.
In its reservoir stood 56,000 acre feet of water.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT COMPLETES HIS FIFTH YEAR IN WHITE HOUSE

grinly battling the same forces that darkened his inauguration five years ago—the forces of depression and unemployment. One thing he has definitely overcome. Five years ago, to the forces of depression and unemployment there was added the greatest banking crisis the country has ever known. He was literally inducted into office in the clasp of closing bank doors. The banking situation has been corrected. The financial structure of the banks today is soundest in history, with the federal treasury standing back of the average depositor. But two of the black widows of 1933 remain—depression and unemployment.

As he assumed the presidency that black March day five years ago, he confidently proclaimed:
"The only thing we have to fear is fear itself."

Recession Is Here.
He still believes that today after five years of herculean effort, of bold experiments, and enormous expenditure, in trying to pull the country back on the highway of prosperity. A year ago he looked like that battle was won. Then came the recession, which a great many people today cannot differentiate from a depression.

When Mr. Roosevelt took over in 1933 the public debt of the United States was $13,550,000,000, and the budget was far from balanced.
Today the public debt is $37,000,000,000, an all-time high, and the budget is still far from balanced.

More than seventeen billion dollars have been spent in five years in seeking that still elusive road to recovery and prosperity. And the budget is still out of balance—the more so because of the still unpredictable cost of the new farm program and the proposed 20 per cent expansion in the navy.

Millions Unemployed.
Five years ago this fourth of March, it was estimated there were upward of 15,000,000 people out of employment. That figure has been brought down, but it is still estimated, by the government's own figures, that today there are more than 10,000,000 unemployed.

There remains many things that Mr. Roosevelt's world has not accomplished. But he has no intention of pushing them at this time.

His present occupation, after five years of the new deal, is in negotiation.

FALLEN SOVIET LEADERS ADMIT REBELLIOUS PLOTS

Yazdora today was looked to as the likely premier of the last sessions in the trial of 21 confessed plotters.

The 47-year-old former head of a Kremlin coup that was to have materialized in 1934. As the story, the most remarkable so far unfolded in this dramatic trial, came from the tip of Alexei I. Rykov, former Soviet premier. Yazdora admitted its fundamental truth.

"But," he said, "Rykov has put it wrong." Apud the testimony which will likely send him to the front end of the line, Yazdora will be given his chance to defend his version of the alleged plot shortly.

The "breaking spell" for which business has been functioning for many months appears at hand. Mr. Roosevelt has approved his congressional legislation that he contemplates the submission of no more important legislation at this time—at least, nothing of a nature calculated to upset future business calculations. The current period is over for the time being, at least.

There remains many things that Mr. Roosevelt's world has not accomplished. But he has no intention of pushing them at this time.

His present occupation, after five years of the new deal, is in negotiation.

HIGHWAY SAFETY GAINS

THE nation's traffic fatalities in January showed a decline of 17 per cent from a year ago and one of 30 per cent from December, 1937. The National Safety Council, which has compiled the records, is justified in viewing this as "an encouraging start for 1938."

Decreases of more than 25 per cent each were shown by twelve states, Maryland taking the place of honor with a reduction of 45 per cent.

Just what is the explanation of this heartening improvement in a situation with so intimate a relationship to the conservation of human life is not clear. It is fair to assume, however, that the increasing campaigns of education against reckless driving and the more rigid enforcement of highway laws and regulations are having their effect, which means that they are saving human lives.

Many factors influence the fluctuations of the casualty lists, including the condition of the roads, the operation of defective vehicles, the degree of responsibility or irresponsibility controlling the driver, and the effectiveness with which highways are patrolled.

Solution of the highway safety problem, accordingly, must be approached from a number of angles. There is a growing belief that the most effective means of promoting highway safety is through rigid enforcement of the law and concentration upon this method, it is reasonably certain, will produce material improvement.

EDUCATION'S VALUE

The New York Life Insurance Company has gathered some interesting statistics that should help to dispel the skepticism of boys and girls who believe that the prospects for the future do not justify the efforts and the expense involved in acquiring a higher education. These figures constitute an impressive case in support of the value of education as an aid to material progress in life.

At the average, the company has found, an untrained man 25 years old may expect to earn $1,150 a year while the trained man is earning $1,750. The difference is quite substantial even in the very beginning, but five years later the untrained man will be making $1,550 and the trained man $2,400. The untrained man will reach the limit of his earning capacity at 50, when he will be receiving $1,700 a year, while the one who brought to the business of life more than ordinary intellectual development will have an income of $5,200.

But at 50 the untrained worker will have reached his height and from that time forward he will face increased difficulty in holding employment, even at diminishing wages. At 55 he will be back to $1,528 and at 65 he will have slipped to $1,365, while the trained man will have risen to $6,200.

These figures tell the story of the value of education. They will impress upon parents and also upon thoughtful youth the importance of making whatever efforts and sacrifices may be required in order that higher education may be obtained.

D'ANNUNZIO'S LAST ADVENTURE

Gabriele D'Annunzio died of a burst blood vessel in his brain. This final drama of his adventure-filled life left him serene in his library, a fitting culmination of more than a year of monastic seclusion, yet a dull climax to a wild, versatile, valorous career.

D'Annunzio was a poet. Even his prose works, often marked by violence and invective and strange imaginings, and withal so picturesque as to offend protagonists of religion, had the subtle hauntings of poetry.

He was a soldier; his comic opera capture and sovereignty of Fiume, where for more than a year he defied Italy and the rest of Europe, following his scintillating exploits for that same Italy during the World War, surely attested his courage, whatever his motivation. Personally, he was eccentric, erratic, unpredictable, self-centered, picturesque and brilliant.

That was D'Annunzio, the Prince of the Snowy Mountain, who delighted in flowers, in dogs and in music; who dabbled in witchcraft and mysticism; who in disdaining the commonplace was startling and disconcerting in his flaming leaps to escape it; who earned and squandered lavish sums, yet spurned his creditors; a Cyrano who challenged death to a climactic duel in some crowded amphitheatre, but passed quietly away in his home like a once-blowing candle that has burned low.

Certainly he will remain to many of his warm-blooded fellow-Italians an illustrious symbol of colorful, vigorous, comprehensive living!

AS BARUCH SEES UNEMPLOYMENT CAUSES

Much attention is being called to the testimony of Bernard M. Baruch, Democratic liberal and one of President Woodrow Wilson's chief advisers, gave before the senate committee on unemployment.

Mr. Baruch testified that the nation's policies with regard to business and taxation had started a deflationary spiral which, if allowed to continue, would carry the country into a situation from which there might be no recovery.

The social security tax, the undistributed profits and capital gains taxes, the contributory estate taxes, the proposed family owned corporations out of existence, together with excessive regulation designed to change the American system without the understanding or approval of the people—all these measures, Mr. Baruch said, are deflationary and prevent the investment of capital, which is the only sound and sure way of providing employment.

"It is the combination of millions of cautions on the part of businessmen, big and little, throughout the country, that holds back the spending and development which could do ten times more for re-employment than any government action, or all the spending for relief in any year of this depression," Mr. Baruch told the committee.

"I say it with regret," Mr. Baruch added, "but I would be less than candid if I failed to express my opinion that unemployment is now traceable more directly to government policy than to anything that business could or should do, and that if those policies are not changed, neither business nor government can ever solve this most terrible of all our problems."

Mr. Baruch's wisdom and experience have made him one of the country's most respected authorities on business and finance, and the warning he gives cannot be passed over lightly. There are signs that congress proposes to heed his advice—although weeks will elapse before the tax bill can be rewritten and the country be given the relief from the depression which is now more important to it than anything else.

WHEN BABY SUCKS THUMB

Many who read this column inform me that they clip it to send to, or take out a subscription to the paper containing it, for a relative whose paper does not carry it. Or they will write me for advice about some problem of a relative's family. And here is such a letter from a great-grandmother.

"Dear Dr. Myers: I have read many of your answers to mothers and think they are good. I believe you have stated you would answer personally if a self-addressed, stamped envelope were enclosed. So I am doing that in connection with a question I have regarding a great-grandson who is only three years old. The boy has a habit of sucking the thumb of his right hand, and at the same time, with his left hand fumbles with his private part. I notice he does this particularly at the time of wanting to go to sleep, or on waking while he is still drowsy. His little sister, nearly two, also sucks her thumb. Both were bottle babies. The mother, I think, has tried to break him by slapping his hand but without success. I know of another mother whose boy did this, who put rubber cords in his breeches, both at waist and bottom of legs. It worked, as she also put a cloth thumb stall on. If you will answer, I can send her the answer, as she lives in the country, but has faith in my findings of helpful suggestions. I have sent her others of your articles and I do feel that something should be done. In so young a child, we would hardly call it masturbation, would we? However, it seems as if it would grow into that if not corrected.

Punishment No Cure

Answer: Slapping or any other punishment won't cure such habits. You see, they are exercised as comforters, and therefore are the more likely to be exercised after disapproval or punishment. With thumb sucking, the good old-fashioned remedies of rough thumb-stalls (rougher the better), bitter substances on the thumb, mitts or cuffs, or similar devices often do work, but they work only when they do not vex the child and stir up resistance in him, and when, moreover, he can be won to co-operate. They are futile when he thinks them punishments. Hence, they usually work better with the very young child than the child over three or four. A toy which a child will tiddle in bed may be effective.

That young mother might get good results if she would work on herself instead of the child, trying to get more rest and relaxation, so she could show no emotion whatever about these habits, could be serene and move with poise and speak quietly. She should read to the child to quiet him and be more generous with affection toward him.

O FOOLISH FELLOW

My friend came to me and said he was unhappy and didn't know what to do about it. He supposed he had been born unhappy and would remain miserable to the end of his days. He was like that because his Chemical Mixture had made him as he was and it couldn't be changed.

I told him he was mistaken about his Chemical Mixture. He merely thought he was unhappy, but inside of him he was really a happy individual. How did I know? Because I had known him for a long time and often I'd seen him trying to be a sour philosopher and failing because his innate cheerfulness kept breaking through his artificial clouds of gloom. If he were an unhappy man who thought he was happy I wouldn't say a word about it. Because if a man's happy, let him be happy—that's what I say—and the man who goes out of his way to destroy his fair bubble of joyfulness is a mean and malicious scoundrel. Or a depraved fool. Or a dangerous child.

But my friend was really happy, and should not forget it. I told him of something that had happened to me, one day, I had thought myself depressed. The world seemed a awful place and I hated it. I lived in a black hole and I pitied those simple folk who smiled and who had energy and a cheerful faith in life. Poor idiots, I said to myself, who didn't know they walked above a furious sea.

In such a mood I walked the streets in a state of mind to despise all men and women I met. I moved through crowds resenting the presence of humanity sneering. At last I thought I was sneering. With one part of my mind I was being miserable.

But suddenly, in a little while, I discovered something. As I walked along I found myself liking the stranger I saw. I'd put on a young girl in a pretty new dress and I'd find myself thinking, "There's a nice youngster." I'd meet a woman with a serene beauty all about her and I'd be thinking "A truly beautiful woman." I'd meet an old man and think, "He has a strong face." I'd encounter many a young fellow and judge him kindly. "There's a fine lad." Wherever I went I made cheerful observations about human beings I'd never seen before, and I'd flash I knew I was NOT unhappy.

And neither can you be a gloom, my friend and think such thoughts at the same time. Only an optimist can do that. So I am convinced that you, Poor Idiot, are a happy man. You think you are a Stagnant Swamp but a Spring of Sweet Water bubbles within you. Think that over.

Correct this sentence: "The power I have is a great responsibility," said the man, "and it makes me feel very humble."

Good Taste

By Francine Markel

A LARGE amount of my mail is from people who want the recipe for becoming a "good mixer." Some are born that way—totally lacking in self-consciousness. Others must work hard to become so and still others can never make the grade.

Without a certain amount of poise and self-assurance, you simply cannot be popular socially. For the good mixer must have this quality. He must have an available supply of "small talk" and pleasantities of speech and that priceless faculty—interest in the conversation of others. He has neither conceit nor his opposite evil—inferiority complex.

Concentrate on a center and bear in mind that health, happiness and husbands seldom arrive while you sit idly in wait for them.

You must believe in yourself before you can overcome your self-consciousness. Forget you are shy by nature and make an effort to meet strangers instead of shrinking away from them. Greet enthusiastically those whom you meet. Make them feel that you are genuinely glad to see them. Contribute your share to the conversation. Do not sit back nurturing pessimistic thoughts of yourself. The more you think about yourself, the more miserable you will become. Let your thoughts dwell on those surrounding you, and forget about yourself.

Develop confidence in yourself. Venture opinions! Make your presence known! And if you are seriously interested in becoming popular, refrain from gossip or argument.

If you fail, take consolation in the fact that many great geniuses are sufficiently self-sufficient to be indifferent to popularity. In these days of radio, movies and automobile visits, with a few selected friends, wide social popularity is less essential than it used to be.

Propose Licensing Monopolies Government Control New Issue May Become Issue At Election

By LESLIE EICHEL,

Central Press Columnist

YESTERDAY, this column wrote of a renewed effort by good government forces for state, county and city markets.

Today, we write of a different kind of movement developing—for the control of corporations for the benefit of investors and the public interest.

The licensing bill of Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming may become the basic instrument.

Incidentally, this bill is under a furious barrage from large interests who see in it the "loss of freedom." And liberals are equally worried because Senator O'Mahoney has made concessions—especially in the exemption of corporations of less than $100,000, the vesting in the courts instead of a board of power to revoke licenses and the dropping of provisions for labor standards. Sentiment has changed in regard to large corporations. Monopolies are the natural development of evolution. The contention now is that government must control every action of monopolies in the interest of the people at large.

Anti-trust laws served no purpose. If a long drawn-out prosecution was successful, fines were administered. But "punishment" solved nothing. Prices still were controlled. Consumers, investors were helpless. A sort of economic anarchy continued to reign.

Tens of thousands of people lost their savings in the pyramids of the Insults, the Van Sweringens and others. And vast properties were controlled by a mere pittance of investment, society and other businesses were haunted—as were economic laws. But economic laws "take their toll—and die."

Thus, uncontrolled monopoly becomes a form of destruction second only to war. I wish all readers could see some of the results as closely as I have.

FAR-REACHING

A licensing bill, however "mild" it may be after passing through the opposition of conservatives in congress, will be far-reaching.

Times change, men change, the conservatives of today day the "radicals" become conservatives, as time moves on. And the law of today will be amended many, many times, until the government will have complete control of every monopoly.

This is true in every major nation today, no matter what form of government it may have.

And why? Because of a "reform wave?"

No. Because the monopolies, as they grow larger and larger, collect a larger and larger share of tax on the people, and become merely competitors but antagonists of government. It is either monopolies or the government—and the government is certain to win.

The government must win, to carry on. In the end, the government can be the only monopoly.

Even when Franklin D. Roosevelt disappears, and Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin and the Japanese militarists are forgotten, their successors will continue to make the government supreme. If they do not, their government will fall, and people will destroy all. President Roosevelt has been the most hesitant of all. He actually has opposed the trend, rather than furthered it. His efforts seem to have been endeavors to preserve "free competition"—to give the small man a chance—when, as a matter of fact there is no longer any "free competition." Nowhere in the world can one find it. We all have become a part of vast monopolistic groups—and are their "subjects" in all that governs our economic life.

That is the view of the new and growing forces, which will have a potent voice in the 1940 election campaign. Complete government control of monopolies may well become the campaign cry. And it is a campaign cry that is likely to split both parties. It probably will prove very popular with the public. The opposition, however, will have immense campaign funds at its disposal.

Once a lowly Armenian Kurd, who had become a soldier of fortune in his teens and learned the fighting ways of white men, stepped upon history's stage when the setting was somewhat similar, and made himself master of Egypt, Syria, Mesopotamia and Asia Minor and brought about a reunion of Mohammedan solidarity which blocked western penetration of these countries for over centuries.

This was Salah-ed-din Yusuf ibn Ayub, known as Saladin, who died at Damascus, aged 67, on March 4, 1193.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Spy Scare Is Cause Of Laugh

Information Which They Could Secure Is Negligible Washington States

NATIONS HAVE LICENSED SPIES

Central Press Washington Bureau 602 Times-Herald Bldg. By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, March 4.—It is not much to the credit of the American sense of humor that so much attention is paid to recent reports of the activity of foreign spies in our midst.

It is news, of course, that our G-Men have made a batch of arrests on espionage charges of late. It is a rather colorful story, in fact, especially considering the circumstance that a "beautiful woman" is one of the suspects. Oh, yes, it makes interesting reading. But that anyone should take it seriously—that's too funny.

The alleged spies' inventions may have been bad, to be sure. Perhaps they should be sent to Alcatraz on that ground. Or perhaps they should be penalized for obtaining money under false pretenses from their employers. However, the notion that any of them ever obtained a transponder of worthwhile American army or navy information for the benefit of Uncle Sam's potential overseas enemies is laughable.

STRAINS IMAGINATION Part of the yarn is to the effect that the plotters tried to lay hands on a bunch of Yankee passport blanks, to facilitate the operations of confederates abroad. If that is true, it was an offense, certainly. The charge also is made that the conspirators planned to murder an American army officer to gain possession of secret documents he was supposed to be carrying about with him. That, likewise, if proved, would be bad business, involving international complications. But prove it!—or that any foreign government sanctioned it!

This reported plot obviously was of German origin, supposing that there was such a plot. Is anyone so cuckoo as to believe that the Hitler regime approved a program calling for the killing of an American army officer in New York, to rob him of secret papers? One may disapprove of Hitlerism, but it strains the imagination to think of it as that crass.

WHAT A STIPEND! True, it may be argued that Hitler did not suggest the matter; that it was the scheme, not of Berlin, but of Berlin's individual spies in this country.

Well, according to our G-Men's version, who was Germany's chief spy?

Why, he was getting from his principals (this, again, is according to the G-Men's account) $50 monthly.

A fine stipend for a spy of any consequence!

THEIR "SECRETS" Furthermore, where do spies get their information?

We have one of them now (a cashed-in American navy officer) doing time in a federal prison for selling information to Japan.

His defense was that all the information he purveyed was acquired by a perusal of publications available to anyone (such as "Jane's Fighting Ships," a periodical for sale to anyone willing to pay for it—as open as "Who's Who" to the general public).

This ex-officer read it intelligently.

ly, as an expert, assimilated it and dished it up in pre-digested form to Japan, which was willing to pay for his interpretation.

He may have been blameworthy, but he betrayed no secrets—for he had none.

Every important embassy or legation in Washington has a military and naval observer.

This chap is a licensed spy. He doesn't snoop, but he mixes with our army and navy men. He tells, professionally, at his club, what he has to tell, in exchange for what his American associates have to tell to him. There's little secrecy about it. There is not, indeed, much to be kept secret.

HOW IT'S DONE There is in this country a group of purveyors to businessmen, of supposed "inside" commercial and governmental information.

These folk read the daily and trade newspapers very carefully. It's hard work to keep up with all sorts of business trends, but they do it; they watch charts and price fluctuations and car loadings, et cetera, and they co-ordinate all this "dope" which even a big businessman can't keep track of. Then they sell their predigested information.

I've no doubt it's worth having. There's a market for it, anyway. Same way with international spies. They read the newspapers and the right magazines carefully, present their conclusions snappily, and class as first-class espionage agents. That's all it amounts to.

Not that murder plots, if any, are not overdoing matters.

Dealers Join In Used Car Drive

Local Auto Dealers Join National Drive To Prime Business Pump

WEEK CAMPAIGN STARTS MONDAY

New Castle automobile dealers are joining the forty-six thousand automobile dealers of the United States in an attempt to make National Used Car Exchange Week a successful stimulant to national business.

Committees have been appointed by the local dealers to cooperate to the fullest extent with the plan sponsored by the Automobile Dealers and Manufacturers of the United States.

The week has been set aside as a period to create a market for the great stock of used cars now in the hands of dealers the country over. By clearing used car stocks, dealers will be free to handle new car sales. This is expected to start the automobile industry, the greatest in the country, rolling from the auto parts and auto manufacturers down to the dealers and repairmen.

Sixty-six per cent of all automobile sales are to used car buyers, nine million owners, whose earnings are less than $1,000 a year, according to statistics revealed. It is the expectation to cultivate this market intensively, and to use a more intelligent approach to it.

Dealers, recognizing the problems of the used car market, are junking obsolete models, thus taking them off the market. These models lack the safety features of the modern car and have outlived their usefulness. They are proving a menace to present day traffic, and by replacing them with later models they are increasing the factors of safety and also stimulating new business.

Rate Equalization Is Asked By Duff

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, March 4.—Walter W. Duff, of New Castle, president of the Crushed Stone Producers organization, appearing before the public utility commission's hearing on freight rates on Thursday, petitioned the commission to equalize the rate on crushed stone and gravel.

Duff said there was at present a differential in the rate as between the two commodities, both of which are used in road building, to the disadvantage of crushed stone purchasers.

He had no objection, he said, to a freight rate increase, provided the rate on gravel was brought up to the same level as that on crushed stone. Railroad attorneys said they would enter no objection provided the freight rate was increased on gravel and not decreased on crushed stone.

Expect Kennedy To Be Candidate

Harr Will Not Enter Democratic Primary As Candidate For Governor

By J. WILLIAM THIES

(Associated Press)

HARRISBURG, March 4.—Luther Harr is "out" and Lt. Gov. Thomas Kennedy is "coming in."

That much was added definitely today to the independent democratic muddle over who is to face off against Charles Alvin Jones, the shared organization candidate for governor in the May 17 election.

Harr, former secretary of banking and now Philadelphia city treasurer, lifted himself cleanly out of gubernatorial fracas in a lengthy statement that declared he had "never desired to be active in the party" and was "high-pressed" into seeking his present office.

Announcement of Kennedy's candidacy to succeed Gov. George H. Earle, meanwhile, was just a matter of time.

The laboring cabinet officer promised a statement "in a few days" but it was established definitely he planned to run, apparently with the support of U. S. Sen. Joseph P. Guffey. Kennedy went so far as to say:

"I expect to be in it."

The Guffey tieup, left-handed and otherwise, was indicated in Kennedy's admission that Edward N. Jones, former WPA administrator and Guffey lieutenant, would be "associated" with him in his campaign. Jones, openly indignant over treatment afforded Guffey in state conferences that led to the organization's selection, was expected to handle important phases of Kennedy's campaign.

Unruh Heard By Institute Here

Rotary's Third Lecturer Calls For World 'Code Of Conduct'

Nations of the world sooner or later must adopt a "code of conduct" to stabilize their methods of co-operation, E. J. Unruh, Indianapolis, director of the Mid-West Council on International Relations and World Traveler, told a Rotary "Institute of International Understanding" audience at Senior high school last night.

"Just as in business, co-operation—not competition—is the life of the world today," he said, pointing out at length the importance of certain raw materials that America must import for her major industries.

Mr. Unruh scored "this drift toward blind isolationism" in the United States, and, in another part of his talk, declared that "personally, I'm inclined to think another war won't come."

The speaker sought to show that the United States is a part of a community of nations and that the United States has a definite relationship to that community. He employed figures to emphasize his points.

Introduced by Attorney William J. Caldwell of the Rotary club, Mr. Unruh came here as the third "Rotary Institute" speaker. The next, Dr. Harry H. Love, faculty member at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., appears Thursday evening, March 10.

"Despite the fact the new game code lowered the fine on many violations, there has been a marked increase in the penalties collected for the game law violations during the year 1937-38," Director Seth Gordon announced.

Audiometer Used Today In Schools To Test Hearing

Arthur McGill And Union High School Students Use State Device

A device known as the audiometer was brought to New Castle today by the state of Pennsylvania for the purpose of testing the ears of school students, to determine the percentage of hearing.

With this device the students, over the fourth grades, will be able to ascertain whether they are suffering from any ear or hearing troubles. As many as 40 students may be checked at one time by this device. Miss Durkin is accompanying the machine as operator for the state.

This morning Miss Durkin had the audiometer at the Arthur McGill school, and a large number of the students of that school had their ears examined.

This afternoon Miss Durkin had the machine taken to Union high school, where the students were subjected to this mechanical test. According to Jay G. Rudolph, supervising principal of the Union township schools, the machine will be used for the remainder of this week in the township schools.

Seek To Void $1,000 Verdict

(International News Service) MEADVILLE, Pa., March 4.—A court ruling on a motion to set aside a verdict given last October in favor of Margaret Skillen, 26, Youngstown, who brought suit against her foster parents on grounds of defamation of character and slander, was awaited here today.

Last October the girl was awarded $1,000 after she had brought suit for $20,000 from Mr. and Mrs. James Skillen, Meadville, alleging they "spoke and uttered false, scandalous, malicious and defamatory words" against her.

Attorney Herbert A. Mook, representing the defendants, said the jury's award was excessive and against the evidence.

Annual Show At Union High Is Well Attended

Several Hundred Persons Witness Production Of "Radio Varieties"

For the annual presentation of "Radio Varieties" by the students of the Union township school, several hundred persons filled the school auditorium Thursday evening, for the first of the series.

The evening went up at 8:15 o'clock, and everything on the program went about as planned. The show was under the direction of the school, which is headed by Thomas S. Scharf, principal of the school.

The program was composed of songs, dances, and skits. The skits were the most popular, and were well received by the audience.

Accompanied by the orchestra, the students sang a song, "Auntie's Song," which was presented by the students. The song was a tribute to the auntie, and was well received by the audience.

The show was a success, and the students were well received by the audience. The show was a well-attended event, and the students were well received by the audience.

Many Rallies Are Planned In March

Christian Endeavor Rally Dates Given; Locals To Gather On March 10

March 7 to 13 will be an active time for the Christian Endeavorers in the western part of Pennsylvania. According to announcements made at the executive meeting of the Lawrence County Christian Endeavor Union, held Thursday evening in the Central Presbyterian church, the following rallies are scheduled:

March 7, Indiana county at Claymont; March 8, Armstrong county at Rockwell; March 9, Beaver county at Rockwell; March 10, Lawrence county at New Castle; March 11, Jefferson county at Rockwell; March 12, Clarion county at Rockwell; March 13, Butler county at Butler.

With a morning service at 7:30 and services continuing throughout the day and evening.

At the meeting of county executives, the devotional program consisted of a period of silent prayer, and Rev. D. C. Schenck offering the evening prayer. The business meeting was opened by Miss Genevieve Fry. Reports were heard from the following committees: publicity, leadership, citizenship and literature, youth, and mission and social. The intermediate and junior superintendents also gave reports. Plans for the spring rally were announced, including a splendid banquet and social time, together with an inspirational evening meeting, will take place. Walter Evans, the Hershey registrar, reported one registration to date for the state convention July 11 to 16.

Christian Endeavor societies responding to the roll call were Central Presbyterian, Madison Avenue, Central and First Christian, Mahoning, Neshannock, Rich Hill, First and Plainesville Presbyterian, and the Reformed Presbyterian.

Walter S. Reynolds estate to State Capital Savings and Loan Association, Lawrence county, $50.

John E. Sullivan to John J. Sullivan, 7th ward $1.

Two rather peculiar cases were filed Thursday in the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar. The cases are those of Samuel W. Crawford, Margaret Crawford and Charles J. Norge against the Township of Big Beaver and the School District of Big Beaver Township. In them they ask for the striking off of taxes for 1937, 1938 and 1939 assessed against 58 acres in Big Beaver township. The township taxes amount to $51.23 and the school taxes amount to $34.37.

In the petition it is alleged that in 1919, the Crawfords took title to a parcel of land in Big Beaver township. In 1923 it was sold to John Paul Noggle. In 1932 by suit of Mary Crawford the title reverted to the Crawfords by sheriff's sale for the taxes, amounting to $124.07. At the time, the attorney handling the sale said that all taxes were included in the sale by the sheriff.

Later it is alleged the assessors of Big Beaver township found that John Paul Noggle had owned the land but assessed it in the name of William E. Noggle, there being land in the township in that name. The Crawfords and Norge claim there are no taxes due against the property for the years specified and ask that they be stricken off.

Whether the marriage breaks up in a divorce later or not, it seems that in Lawrence County practically everybody ordering a marriage license claims it. Of the 500 licenses in the book just closed, all but three of them were claimed.

In order to get a marriage license it is necessary for the young man and the young woman to present themselves in person. The cost to the young man is $2.50. Three days later one of the two can get the marriage license and it is good for sixty days in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. A license that has been ordered but not called for can be gotten at any time after that but once taken out it must be used in 60 days and that in Pennsylvania.

$535.50, register and recorder $951.95, sheriff's office $1034.89, coroner's office $13.76, Prothonotary $1213.50, District attorney $1718.36, Law library $111.05, Courts, $1419.53, Justices and aldermen, $202.45, constables, $138.95, Probation and parole and detention home, $1015.98, Penal institutions, $2597.54. County jail $354.97. Non-county institutions $134.75. Maintenance of children, $265.89. County superintendent of schools, $348.25. Military contributions, $8.50.

The institutional district costs are divided as follows: Administrative expense, $681.17. County Home $2,564.18. County Insane $456.15. Outdoor relief $4976.92.

Dean W. Martin Gains Fame Through New Potato

Of interest to his many friends here is the recognition which has come to Dean W. Martin, former New Castle boy, in developing a new type of potato, which has produced a yield of 1,012 bushels on two acres of ground, and has proven disease resistant to a remarkable degree in tests so far conducted.

Mr. Martin is now located at Green Bay, Wis., where he has been conducting his tests in conjunction with the University of Wisconsin.

Prior to entering this field, Mr. Martin had been a professor of physics at Georgetown college in Kentucky. Twelve years ago, he was struck by a bolt of lightning, which left him in such poor health that he was unable to carry on his work. He turned to experimentation with potatoes, which he began to grow in 1925. He developed a variety which would be uniform in size, shape and productive, and which would be resistant to disease.

The Martin Round, as he calls the new potato, is the result. It was obtained by crossing 150 different varieties. Final selection settled on a combination produced by crossing the Green Mountain and Petosky varieties with the New Brunswick.

During the past few years the University of Wisconsin has been growing test plots of seedlings developed by Martin, generally with a view toward determining their disease resistance. Martin states that the university has found them almost immune from disease more so than any other variety.

Eleven plots were grown in various localities in Wisconsin in 1937, and test plots will be planted in a number of other states this year to determine how the potato reacts to varied growing conditions.

On one two-acre test plot last year, where 1,012 bushels were grown, the grading was over 80 per cent of U. S. No. 1. Inquiries and orders for seed have already come to him from 34 different states and two Canadian provinces. So far this year, Martin has sold all but about a thousand bushels from the 3,600 available from last year's planting. These he expects to plant on various test plots this year.

Mr. Martin lived in New Castle during the first twenty years of his lifetime and attended the local schools. He carried the New Castle News for a number of years, starting out 32 years ago.

His mother, Mrs. Harriet Martin Macon, and most of the relatives of his wife, Ethel Weyal Martin, reside in Lawrence county.

He has many friends here, who will wish him continued success in his new field of endeavor. His home address is R. F. D. No. 6, Green Bay, Wisconsin.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—President Roosevelt today expressed surprise that the provision providing for publication of salaries of executive officers would be eliminated under the new tax bill.

He said he thought the public had a right to know what the executives of such agencies as General Motors were making. It is a question, he asserted, of public morality.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Because of the implications that the billion-dollar naval expansion bill "was prompted by a secret agreement with Great Britain," Rep. Brewster of Maine, announced today he would file a minority report against the measure.

As one of three members of the House naval affairs committee who voted against reporting the bill, Brewster charged the administration "has never made it clear whether this program is for national defense or an Asiatic excursion."

BRING IN YOUR OLD CAR DRIVE OUT A BETTER CAR EASY TERMS

This Saturday morning begins a nationwide event which this country has never seen before. Thousands of used cars—many of them modern cars with the advanced features the industry has developed in the last few years—go on sale at prices far below those of several months ago. Never has there been a national, co-operative movement like this to make better, more modern transportation available to so many people!

This National Used Car Exchange Week comes at just the right time for used car buyers. The season—the prices and the values are all in your favor. This is the week to bring in your old car and drive out a better car.

A great many 1937, '36 and '35 cars are included in this nation-wide sale. Cars have improved greatly in the last few years. If yours is older, you'll find it a real thrill to drive a car with modern style—bigger, roomier body—luggage space—safety brakes—bigger tires—smoother, more powerful engine—better gas mileage. Many of the dealers are offering their best cars with the finest kind of guarantees. If you are driving an old, unreliable car—one that nags you with repair bills and threatens your safety every time you take it out—this is your great chance to own a safer, more modern car.

Your present car may cover the down-payment, and you can pay the balance on easy terms. If you have no car to trade you can still take advantage of the low down-payments and easy terms during this sale. Go early!—before the best bargains are snapped up. Don't let National Used Car Exchange Week pass without seizing your great opportunity to DRIVE A BETTER CAR!

and was program manager of the junior class.

Some employees of the city are reported somewhat worried as to their future. There have been reports that some may be replaced by people not now on the city payroll.

During council meeting Streets Director William H. Dunlap submitted an ordinance which provides for the paving, curbing, grading and drainage of Cascade street between East Washington street and Croton avenue. The cost of the material will be charged against the abutting property owners. Damages will be paid by the city if any should be caused. The street was improved some years ago but the work did not stand up. There are many holes in the street, according to reports made now and then to council. It will be a city WPA project.

Two hundred and forty-one loads of tin cans were gathered from residential yards during the month of February according to the report of Edward Umbright, superintendent of the garbage collection department today. In addition 1,230 tons of garbage was collected. He said employees also had collected and disposed of 72 dead dogs and a score of cats.

It pays to choose a line and stick to it. Climate is just weather with a reputation.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

GIVE EWES SPECIAL CARE DURING LAMBING SEASON

Lambing time is one of the most important seasons of the year. A small lamb crop means a low income from that part of the farm business.

The following suggestions for the spring management of the ewe flock may be beneficial.

A few more hours spent in the sheep barn at this time will pay large dividends. However, if the flock has been properly fed and exercised up until now, very little trouble should arise. One of the best ways to insure a good strong lamb crop is to have plenty of fresh water and salt before the ewes and to see that they have a liberal amount of exercise during the winter.

After the lambs are dropped, the ewes should be fed lightly for a few days as they will usually be in a feverish condition. The udders should be watched very closely to be sure that the teats are open and the lambs are nursing from both sides of the udder.

Ewes lambing at this time of the year should be fed a liberal ration high in protein. A good legume hay with some corn silage furnishes a splendid roughage. Many careful shepherds separate the ewes with twin lambs from those with singles. This furnishes an opportunity to feed them more liberally.

Five parts of oats, 3 parts of corn, 1 part of barn and 1 part of linseed meal is a satisfactory ration for lambing ewes if fed in conjunction with a legume hay. Ewes nursing lambs should receive from three-fourths to one and a half pounds of this grain mixture, depending on the size of the ewe and roughage fed.

NO EXCUSE FOR USING POOR SEED POTATOES

Potato growers planning to use seed two or more years removed from a disease-free source should think twice before doing so.

It is false economy to use seed of inferior quality. Poor stands, lower yields, and low grade product due to an increase in tuber-borne diseases are likely to be the result. Many diseases cannot be recognized on the tubers. Seed carrying a large amount of mosaic, leaf-roll, and giant hill looks very much like other potatoes.

With disease-free or certified seed grown locally but only one year removed from a disease-free source selling at the lowest prices in years, there is little reason for taking a chance on stock that might be questionable as to yielding ability or production of a quality crop.

TIME NOW TO CASH IN ON OLD LAYERS

Late winter or spring is a good time to dispose of pullets of the heavy breeds. Many of these pullets start to molt toward spring, broodiness usually becomes more prevalent, and mortality may increase, all of which reduce production.

It is quite often advisable to sell the entire flock in late winter or spring and raise a young flock to replace them. Most of the birds will have passed the peak in their production and will be in good market condition.

Early hatched pullets of the general purpose breeds, with proper care, will be in heavy production with good sized eggs when the general supply is not so large. Cock-erels are usually ready for market at a time when the demand is satisfactory.

SOUNDS CAUTION AGAINST USE OF HYBRID SEED CORN

Hybrid corn, one of the newest and promising developments in agriculture, is attracting considerable attention this year.

Although hybrids seem to be making good in the Middle West, there is no enough proof available to show how beneficial they will prove to Pennsylvania farms. Under optimum conditions, hybrids may result in disappointing results. These whose hopes are realized write and speak in glowing terms while usually little is heard from the unsuccessful.

To produce hybrid seed, several strains of corn must be hybrid for four or five years. This reduces size and vigor to a point where little more than a nubbin are produced.

At the same time it brings out and intensifies characteristics, desirable and otherwise. Finally two strains are crossed, the pollen of one being placed on the silk of another. This produces a hybrid which may have certain desirable characteristics, such as high yielding ability, strength of stalk and resistance to disease.

The first generation is also usually remarkably uniform in fodder and bushiness. The second generation from a hybrid breaks up into all sorts of types and has little merit from the standpoint of yield. Many commercial hybrids are double crosses, that is, a cross of two hybrids. These are more economical to produce since the parent plants are larger than those direct from hybrid strains.

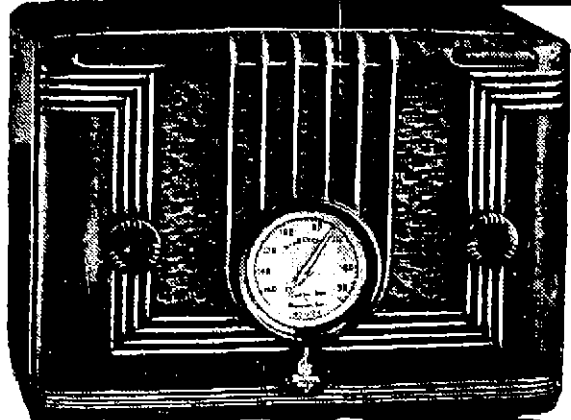

Another point to consider before deciding upon the use of hybrid corn is that the production of seed is a rather specialized business. In addition to being expensive, the farmer must buy new seed every year since he cannot save his own as with ordinary corn.

Hybrids vary as widely in length of season and adaptation as open-pollinated varieties. The farmer who buys hybrid seed blindly is as apt to be disappointed as if he bought an unknown ordinary variety from a distant source.

The Pennsylvania Agricultural Extension Service has been conducting yield trials with hybrid corn for a number of years. In many cases, they stood up better and were more uniform in type than the farmer's own corn. Some yields were higher and some lower. Many proved unadapted and were decidedly disappointing. It is still questionable whether any hybrid can be recommended without additional tests.

Last season, the agronomy department of the Pennsylvania State College began work on the production of hybrid field corn. Three tests of hybrids from other states were conducted at State College, and in Lancaster and Bradford counties. In Lancaster county, four common local varieties all out-yielded the hybrids. In Bradford County, Early Butler matured well and outyielded everything else in the experiment. At State College, some of the hybrids yielded more than the open-pollinated sorts by small margins, but most of them were too late in maturing.

Since it has taken many years to bring the regular corn varieties to their present state of perfection, the wise farmer should stick to them for his main acreage, trying hybrids only in a small way. It is quite possible that superior hybrids will be found, but then will be the time to make the change.

ELECTRIC IRON GOOD INVESTMENT FOR HOME

With electricity available in many Pennsylvania homes, an electric iron is one of the first pieces of electrical equipment to buy.

For the homemaker who does her own laundry, it is a wise selection. It saves time and energy, is convenient, and has a low initial and operating cost.

Like buying anything, the initial cost is not always the only cost. An iron in the middle or upper price level is more likely to give the long-time usefulness and dependability expected of an iron.

Recent tests show that there is a marked difference between the work done with a lightweight or a heavy iron. Therefore, the extra weight of a 6½ pound iron over a 3-pound iron is added weight to life and money.

A satisfactory ironing temperature of an iron depends almost entirely upon its wattage rating and the voltage under which it is operated, explains Miss Vogle. Irons range from 500 to 1000 watts. It has been found that the higher wattage irons—800 to 1000—give the best results.

Today the homemaker may have a thermostatically controlled iron which is especially helpful for ironing synthetic materials. High wattage irons need control for different fabrics to prevent scorching. With the thermostatic control the iron can be set for the temperature required for the material. Some dials register degrees, other gives names of materials, others high, medium, low.

The thermostat is a safety feature in fire prevention.

Cords are usually the trouble makers. Much of the trouble may come from improper usage. The cord has many fine well-insulated wires. Pulling the cord from the iron or the outlet, without grasping the plug, or bending it sharply, will in time break some of these wires or make loose connections at the terminals. This causes blown fuses, radio interference, burning of the insulation material and unsatisfactory use of the iron.

Cords and terminals are being improved but are not guaranteed "trouble free." One of the best improvements is a cord permanently attached to the iron thus eliminating all clips and terminals except the plug for the wall outlet. When replacing any cord or piece of electrical equipment, be sure it is mechanically safe. It should bear the seal of approval of the National Board of Fire Underwriters or the Electrical Testing Laboratory.

The simplest method to keep the iron from the burning board when not in use is to tip the iron up on its heel whenever there is a bracket and handle extension for supporting it. Irons not provided with such an arrangement require a pad or stand.

The handle of the iron should be convenient and comfortable. Newer iron models have a handle of moulded rubber or composition, that is smooth, fits the hand, and protects the hand from getting too hot. Special shapes and extra heated points add little value to the iron. Button polishes, beveled edges, large sole plate, and good pointed front ends are essential.

MAKE BEDTIME HOUR HAPPY FOR CHILDREN

Is the bedtime hour one of pleasure in your home or is it filled with anxiety?

Bedtime should be expected to follow shortly after supper. If a child is not permitted to stay up beyond his regular bedtime, he will not fuss over bedtime nor will he be anxious to say good night.

Any activities indulged in before bedtime should be of a quiet nature so that children will be calm. When over-excited from romping and boisterous play, children do not sleep well.

The best amusement for the hour before bedtime may consist of singing, a quiet game or a story either read or told. The story should be selected so as not to excite children, or make them afraid. It is a favorite plan in many households for the father to be with the children at this hour since so often his time for being with them is limited.

It is best to warn children ahead of time that the hour for going to bed is approaching so that they will be prepared for it, adds Miss Vogle. Children like "grow-ups" have to be stepped in the middle of an interesting story or game. If Johnnie is building a tower which he wishes to complete, mother and father may join him, thus finishing it at the appointed hour. Then Johnnie may retire happy in the results of his play and the other members of the family will be spared a "scene."

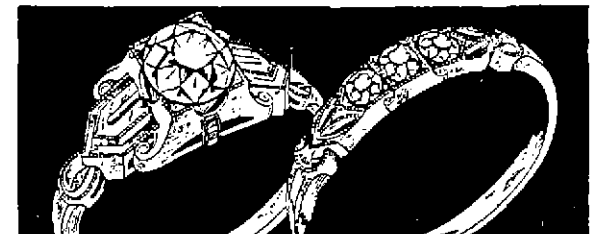

Children should not be encouraged to take a toy or special treasure to bed in order to help them sleep. Try to discourage the formation of

U.S. Will Not Nap At Nations Build Up Arms

American Government Regrettably Serves Notice
On European Nations
Today

(International News Service)
 WASHINGTON, March 4.—Firmly, the American government today served notice on the world that, regrettable as it considers an international armaments race, it has no intention of being left behind.

A summation of foreign policy issued by the state department upon the occasion of the fifth anniversary of President Roosevelt's inauguration, outlined the American defense policy to this effect, and in no uncertain terms.

U. S. Wants Peace
 The document set forth that this country wants peace and wants to limit arms. It reiterated that the United States has frequently moved to take the leadership in a world arms curb program. Pointing to the ineffectiveness of these efforts, the State Department pronouncement concluded:

"This government has often reiterated our readiness to join with other nations in a common effort to bring about a general limitation and reduction of armament."

"But in a world in which increased construction of armament is a regrettable fact, we are compelled to render adequate our military and naval establishments."

Londoner Decides Chickens Should Have Gas Masks

(International News Service)
 LONDON, March 4.—Reginald Perkins, owner of a filling station in Devonshire, has decided that chickens must not suffer from gas attacks in the next war.

With canvas, oilproof and leather straps Perkins has set to work and made the first gasmask for chickens.

The first public demonstration of his invention, however, was hardly a success.

First Perkins had to catch a chicken; when caught, there was some trouble over the adjustment of the mask, but at last it was fitted and the chicken placed on the ground.

Not Complete Success
 Proudly Perkins stood by. The chicken refused to stand up. Instead of lying down, a few yards from Perkins on the need of cooperation in this important defense work, the bird staggered over. Then came the climax—somewhere arrived to feed the chickens and as the masked bird became frantic in its effort to eat, Perkins removed the mask and left the farmyard.

He has not yet decided whether or not to continue with production of the mask. "Somehow," he said, "these birds of mine don't seem to care a bit about a gas attack."

WHAT'S IN A NAME?
 (International News Service)
 SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Bernard Shaw, Frank L. Buck, Woodrow Wilson, Winfield Scott—Roy Stockton, director of the California State Employment Service, thought he was reading a copy of Who's Who when he saw these names on an inter-office report. But they were the names of applicants for work in the Stockton office and submitted to Stockton by W. N. Cunningham, Stockton manager.

"Serving With What We Have" "Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson The Golden Text

Acts 8:6—"Such as I have give I thee."

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for March 6 is Mark 6:1-13; the Golden Text being Acts 8:6, "such as I have give I thee."

There is no accounting for Jesus of Nazareth on natural grounds. The Prophet Isaiah foretold that he would be as "a root out of dry ground." In all his life he never traveled further than our automobiles can carry us in a few hours, yet his name is spoken reverently over much of the earth. He attended no great schools, yet he has done more for the cause of education and enlightenment than all the scholars of the ages. His neighbors saw in him nothing unusual, yet the centuries are reckoned from his birth. He left no writing of which we know except once in the ground men tramped over, and yet more books have been written about him than about any other character in all history. All earthly tests and standards fail utterly to measure or account for him.

"The Carpenter"
 His fellow townsmen of Nazareth, to whom he was but the village carpenter, could not recognize what they feared he was with what they preferred to think he was. Their preconceived notions of him failed to explain the man they saw and heard in their synagogue, but they determined to stick by their opinions. They chose rather to do violence to him than to their own notions of him. "From whence hath this man these things? and what wisdom is this which is given unto him, that even such mighty works are wrought by his hands? Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary, the brother of James, and Joseph, and of Juda, and Simon? And are not his sisters here with us? And they were offended at him." They stumbled over their own stubborn home-town prejudices which they admitted were inadequate to explain the carpenter whom once they hired to work for them, and to whom they now felt inferior and determined not to admit it.

The Unhonored Prophet
 Therefore Jesus laid bare their prejudice, saying, "A prophet is not without honor, but in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house." But their prejudice they shut the door of privilege and we read the result in the words, "He could there do no mighty work, save that he laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them." And he marveled because of their unbelief." And the world still marvels that those who knew him best, knew him least, and being Acts 8:6, "such as I have give I thee."

Volunteers Enlisted
 Far from discouraging Jesus' disciples, his rejection at Nazareth put light into them and gave them determination to push his cause in other parts. "He called unto him the twelve, and began to send them forth by two and two, and gave them power over unclean spirits. And commanded them that they should take nothing for their journey, save a staff only, no scrip, no bread, no money in their purse. . . . And they went out and preached that men should repent." As his own power was spiritual and from above, so was theirs to be. As he gave Nazareth infinitely more than Nazareth gave him so they going forth empty and penniless were to enrich the world. And so they did, because "he gave them power."

Eloquence Of Counsel No Aid To Defendants

(International News Service)
 CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 4.—Had counsel for three defendants charged with armed robbery made less eloquent a plea for their clients before Middlesex Superior Court Judge Willard D. Gray, the trio might have received lighter sentences.

Uttering leniency in an impassioned oration, defense counsel said dramatically:

"Your honor, I wish I could bring tears to your eyes."

"What on these records" asked Judge Gray, scanning the criminal histories of the trio up for judgment.

Each of the defendants received terms of five to seven years each.

An atom would have to be magnified a million diameters to be seen as an extended object; in other words, it is about one-thousandth the diameter of the smallest particle seen with the microscope.

Democrats In Boston Are Real Party Adherents

(International News Service)
 BOSTON, March 4.—Boston has just about the most dried-in-the-city committee.

Democrats of any city in the United States think assistant city clerk John B. Hyman.

Hyman bases his belief on a telephone call from a woman who explained that she had moved to Boston from a small town in Maine, and wanted to know the names of some of the Democrats in the city.

When Hyman was unable to supply for party affiliations of persons who he knew, the woman said to him, "I got information from John W. Newman, chairman of the Democratic city committee."

Strong Military Alliance Urged

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 4.—Specific proposals for a strong military alliance among nations of the western hemisphere have been presented to the state department by Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, (D) of Illinois, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Lewis presented his plan to Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles. He argued that the United States and the neighbors to the south must unite in a pact of mutual military defense to present a single front against any aggression. The state department officially heard Senator Lewis' proposal with interest, but has no idea of suggesting such a pact to other countries of the western hemisphere.

WORRIED WINNIE SHE DREADED HAVING FRIENDS SEE HER WINTER-GRAY WASH!

HEAVENS! THINGS ARE SO DIRTY GRAY AGAIN I COULD DIE! JUST WHEN I NEEDED THEM SNOWY WHITE FOR THE CLUB MEETING!

WE'RE A DISGRACE!

SUNSHINE! WE NEED SUNSHINE!

THIS "SOAKING SOAP" IS TERRIBLY DISAPPOINTING WHEN CLOTHES DON'T GET SUN! I GUESS I'LL HAVE TO SCRUB AND ROLL IF I WANT THINGS WHITE!

WHY DON'T YOU USE THAT NEW NO-SCRUB SOAP, OXYDOL? IT SOAKS WASHES SO SPARKLING WHITE IN 5 MINUTES YOU'LL BE AMAZED.

MERCY, NO! OXYDOL'S A NEW DISCOVERY. IT GETS CLOTHES 4 TO 5 SHADES WHITER THAN SOAP. I'LL SHOW YOU...

WHAT WONDERFUL SUDS—FROM SUCH A LITTLE SOAP!

YOU'LL FIND OXYDOL MAKES 3 TIMES AS MUCH RICH, LIVELY SUDS AS YOUR OLD SOAP!

A FEW MINUTES LATER

HOW MARVELOUSLY WHITE! WHY THEY LOOK LIKE THE VIVID COLORS OF THE SUN FOR HOURS!

WAIT TILL YOU SEE HOW FRESH AND BRIGHT OXYDOL WASHES YOUR COLORED THINGS. IT'S SAFE AS CAN BE FOR COLORS AND HANDS.

• Ethel's friend! Test showed that, cup for cup, Oxydol washed white clothes 4 to 5 shades whiter than other well-known granulated soaps.

THE CLUB MEETING

MY! AREN'T THESE CLOTHES SPICK-AND-SPAN! AND YOUR LINENS SIMPLY SHINE!

TELL US, WINNIE—HOW ON EARTH DO YOU GET THINGS SO WHITE IN MID-WINTER?

I FOUND A GRAND NEW SOAP—OXYDOL—AND IT'S SO WONDERFUL I'D LIKE TO TELL THE WHOLE WORLD.

NOW! END WINTER-GRAY WASHES
This New, SAFE "No-Scrub" Way

Now—watch that dull, dingy look vanish from your winter washes like magic. See them come snowy white—as if they had hung in the summer sun for hours!

You good to be true? Not at all! For the utterly new soap discovery, Oxydol, soaked clothes so white in 15 minutes you'll be amazed!

It is the result of a patented process that makes soap for faster action. And a new formula that makes mild, gentle soap 2 to 3 times whiter washing—yet keeps it safe.

Test against popular laundry soaps including other granulated soaps, showed, cup for cup, Oxydol, at clothes 4 to 5 shades whiter, as proved by standard Tintometer tests.

In fact, Oxydol, soaked clothes as white in 15 minutes as equal quantities of other well-known granulated soaps did in a full 45 minutes!

Yet Oxydol is so safe for all washable colors that sheer cotton panties washed 100 consecutive times in Oxydol showed no perceptible signs of fading. Hands stay soft, white!

Oxydol, is economical, too. Tests show that, cup for cup, it gives 28% to 40% more suds than "sudsier" package soaps, goes 1 to 1, 1 1/2, again as far as even the latest soap claims.

Try Oxydol, today. See how swiftly and surely it banishes "winter-gray" forever! You'll never go back to "I-stay-dirty-again" Power & Camels.

merly of New Castle, but now of Sharon, who was ill last summer, is reported to be in much better health.

Alderman and Mrs. O. H. P. Green and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Voorn, were still in Lakeland when the local visitors were over, but expected to leave soon for Miami.

Andy Reider of Reider Bros., who expected to come to St. Petersburg, has decided to spend a month at Lakeland taking shuffle board lessons, before he comes here.

Edenburgh Represented. Edenburgh is represented in St. Petersburg by Charles McCullough. He has been coming here for a number of years. He has also traveled extensively in other parts of the country, but likes St. Petersburg the best.

William Davidson of Ellwood City is spending the winter at Clearwater, which is the county seat of Pinellas county in which St. Petersburg is located. Mr. Davidson is the father of Carl Davidson, who is quite well known in Lawrence county political circles.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Ray of Wallace avenue, New Castle, are also sojourning at Clearwater this winter.

Former Nail Worker. Met Daniel Laughlin, 516 Franklin avenue, Ellwood City, the other day. He is a native of Big Beaver township, but has lived in Ellwood for a number of years. His last employment was at the old Ellwood City mail factory. He has now retired and steps around with a cane.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Smiley and Betty Smiley and Mrs. Alice Kahn are recent visitors from Ellwood City.

William Blatt and Mr. Steifel, Ellwood City pioneers, who have been here for the winter, spend considerable time at the Sunshine club. Blatt is particularly interested in horticulture. When he is not pinching he is generally keeping score.

Beginning this week Florida tourists will have a chance to size up some big league ball players. The New York Yankees arrived in St. Petersburg on Sunday and started to practice today at Higgin's field. I saw them practicing last year, and made a bet with myself that they would win the championship, which they did. I will size them up again this year and may be able to give you some pointers that will make you money if you bet as I do.

The St. Louis Cardinals arrived today. They will practice at Waterfront Park. Will check up on the great "Dizzy" and let you know if I think he is worth $17,500 a season. For years the Cardinals have been in the habit of training at Bradenton, just across the bay, but decided on St. Petersburg this year.

Bees At Bradenton. The Boston Bees, who trained here last year, are practicing on the Bradenton field, having arrived on last Saturday.

The Cincinnati Reds arrived in Tampa on Friday evening preparation to their first workout under Bill McKechnie, their manager.

The Washington Senators also arrived during the week-end at Orlando, where Manager Bucky Harris has been superintending the preparation of the practice field.

The Boston Red Sox arrived at Sarasota today and will have their first workout tomorrow.

On Thursday the Brooklyn Dodgers, under Larry McPhail, formerly with the Reds, will begin practicing at Clearwater.

The Detroit Tigers will open their training season at Lakeland on March 6, under the direction of Mickey Cochran, who has been here for some time golfing and fishing.

About 100 exhibition games between major league and minor league teams have been scheduled for this district before the teams head north.

Something new in the way of school zone warnings, which would work equally well anywhere was put into operation here this week. Fourteen metal traffic cops were placed at seven elementary schools.

The cops depict a school-boy patrolman, holding a sign warning motorists to drive slowly. The cops are five feet high. Their uniforms and trimmings are in bright blue, yellow and black. The figures look very much like real live policemen.

One of the dummy cops is placed at each end of the school zone. In addition live school-boy patrolmen will be on duty before school opens and when it is let out. The speed limit through the zone is fixed at 15 miles. School-boy patrolmen are to report all violations of the speed limit to the police. The metal cops are expected to do likewise. The metal cops and the plan are the best I have seen in any city.

Oaks Get New Dresses. The phenomena of trees shedding their leaves, and new ones coming on at the same time, is now being witnessed here in the case of the live oaks. While there is no frost to kill the leaves, they turn brown and drop, same as the frost bitten leaves from a white oak or a red oak in the north. But as they drop new leaves come out, so that the tree is never bare.

The new leaves are a very brilliant shade of dark green. They are different in shape from the leaves of our oaks in the north, being oval, like a rubber leaf, but much smaller. The average size is from three to four inches long and one inch wide, diameter.

The live oaks do not grow as tall as our oaks. The trunks are shorter, and the branches more profuse.

More Anon as they say in Clifton. J. P. CALDWELL.

Research proves conclusively that properly regulated exercise is ESSENTIAL to good health. With more than 25 years experience, I am in a position to point out to those with defective vision the way to greater health and happiness.

Lockley Discusses Meter Problems

Appears Before City Fathers At Their Formal Meeting, On Thursday

URGES MODERATION IN INSTALLING METERS

Acknowledging that the city has a traffic problem, Mayor Charles E. Lockley, at his formal appearance before the city fathers at their meeting on Thursday night, urged moderation in the installation of meters.

Lockley, who was introduced by Councilman J. H. McGraw, said that he was not in favor of installing meters in every block of the city.

"You are shortly to decide a matter that will have a decided effect on almost every citizen of the city of New Castle," he said, "and you are to decide it in a very short time."

Lockley, who was introduced by Councilman J. H. McGraw, said that he was not in favor of installing meters in every block of the city.

"It is generally recognized that the city has a genuine traffic problem, probably because such a large percentage of through traffic must travel our main street," he said.

"I recognize that I am not alone in this decision, but I am speaking out in my capacity of a private citizen. I make this statement knowing that no one can hope to understand or express the opinions of everyone on this question."

"If the foregoing represents even a part of public opinion, is it not the wisdom of good government to suggest moderation in the installation of these meters? Are there not certain future developments that may be expected to follow?"

"(1) Recognizing that these meters are in line with present prices, isn't it possible that they may become cheaper as competition becomes more general?"

"(2) Isn't there the possibility of some meter having advantages not possessed by the ones on trial, some meter that would be much more desirable to own and to operate?"

"(3) So many people being adverse to their meters, especially in non-congested areas, we may clearly expect some future political election to present candidates pledged to the removal of them. The removal of these at some future date would represent a tremendous waste of public money."

Has Some Advantages

"(4) The installation of a large number of meters will increase the cost of the solution to the traffic problem. Extra police must be hired to check them, extra help to collect, count, and check the receipts, and possibly extra help to keep them in repair. If, on the contrary, we keep a small number in those spots that are used by the public, we can possibly service them without increasing the payroll. We must remember that the revenue from the meters is simply another form of taxation."

"(5) It would seem in accord with the best principles of democratic government to purchase the smallest number desired, remembering that we can always get more as the need arises."

"In closing, may I stress that I do not wish to seem unduly interfering. I repeat that the meter unquestionably has some important advantages in its favor, and I understand that this question is not up for final vote at this time. I have simply taken this opportunity to express my belief."

that, if purchased at all the meters, they would be covered and meet in small numbers.

Baby Found Dead, Parents Fight For Lives From Fumes

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, March 4.—A baby girl, 16 months old, was dead and her parents were fighting for their lives today from the effects of gas which overcame them in their Duquesne apartment yesterday.

The baby, Dolores, was found dead in her crib, only a few feet from the bed in which Ernest Duran, 28, and his wife, Alice, 24, of lay unconscious from fumes which seeped from a burning gas stove in the room. No windows were open, police reported.

Physicians said Mrs. Duran was placed in an "iron lung" and the father was in an oxygen tent. Their conditions were said to be serious last night and was reported unchanged this morning.

The tragedy was discovered by the landlord, John Stein, who came to the apartment to fix some pipes in the kitchen.

Overconfidence Costly For Egg Eating Champion

(International News Service)

BOSTON, March 4.—Overconfidence, which prompted him to eat a large spaghetti dinner an hour before the national egg eating championship at the Poultry Show in the Boston Garden, was given as the cause for the defeat of Edgar Davis of Boston.

The winner, World War veteran Lou Tillinghast of Wickford, R. I., retained his national crown, downing 54 eggs to Davis' 48. Tillinghast consumed 34 eggs at one session in a past tournament.

Each contestant had his own method of eating. Davis cracked each egg and ate it individually, while Tillinghast mixed a whole dozen in a bowl and then swallowed them in one draught.

Tillinghast made light of his triumph and remarked with a wry smile, "One of those 54 I ate was rotten."

New Castle basketball fans are going to witness one of the greatest independent championship basketball tournaments in the history of the city starting last March 14th at George Washington Junior High School. The proceeds of the tourney will be turned over to the fund for uniforms for the Green Band. The Citizens Music Council will handle the money.

A committee has been appointed to handle the tourney. The general chairman will be A. R. "Tony" Coni. The committee also includes: Maurice, Richard E. Rantz, Alex Samuels, Sid Lockey and C. P. "Bugs" Walther.

Senior Teams Eligible
All of the leading senior teams in the city such as the Keystone A. C., Polish Falcons, Gersons, Cates Service Bombers, K. Pulaski, Marquette, A. A. N. Y. A. S. Nicholas, and others will be eligible for the tourney. No player of the New Castle Senior High team will be allowed to play with any of the teams. Also the New Castle High team as a whole will be barred from participating. It will be strictly an independent tourney.

No player can play with more than one team. Teams entering the tourney will be allowed ten men, and must submit the names in writing along with their entry fee to City Controller Sid Lockey, at the City Building. The entry fee for each team will be three dollars. The money must accompany the entry list.

Get Entries In
March 8th, next Tuesday is the deadline for entering the tourney. A drawing will be made on Wednesday or Thursday for positions in the tourney. There will be two games played each night until there are only two teams left for the championship playoff.

Tickets have been printed and will go on sale Saturday. The admission price for the entire set of tourney games is fifty cents. For any one night it is 15 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. It is possible that you will see six games at least for 50 cents. Remember it is for the Croton band boys. They need new uniforms.

Handsome Awards
General Chairman Coni today announced that handsome awards will be made to the winners and runners-up. Also there will be individual awards such as the most valuable man in the tourney and gold and bronze basketball for the championship players.

A set of recognized referees have donated their services to the cause. Ray Nolt, Charles "Bub" Jones, E. Lockley, Austin Coward, Earl Waller, Buddie Harlan, Jackie Mortimer, and Cackie Gennock.

"Red" Grange Is Operated Upon

Grid Injury Of Ten Years Ago Necessitates Emergency Operation On Star

CHICAGO, March 4.—Harold "Red" Grange, football's most illustrious figure, was undergoing today from an emergency operation necessitated by an old arthritic injury.

Grange was rushed to West Suburban hospital Tuesday night. The "Gallop" Grange was operated on by Dr. V. D. Noyes, an intimate friend since Wheaton High school days. A member of Grange's family, stated:

"They said Red wouldn't have lasted the night out without the operation."

Grange's ailment was an adhesion of the bladder resulting from an injury received ten years ago. Dr. Noyes said today:

"Barring complications, he should leave the hospital in about two weeks."

Green Shirt Aids Victory

Titan Coach Also Carries Rabbit's Foot For Victory In Games

TITAN COACH MAKES RECORD

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, March 4.—A green shirt for all basketball games and an ever-present left hand-foot of the first rabbit of each hunting season stuffed in his trousers pocket, are the pet superstitions of Grover C. Washburn, Westminster's varsity coach.

Washburn

His green shirt, in spite of his wife's objections, has been present in 12 out of 16 Titan basketball wins this year, a brilliant addition to his coaching record at South High, Pittsburgh, where he produced three state championship teams in nine years of coaching.

Although he spends most of his time with his athletes, his major hobby is gardening and hunting. A star athlete during his college days at Indiana and the University of Pittsburgh, Washburn is a rigid disciplinarian in keeping his men in condition.

His ability to mix with any type of crowd has increased his popularity at Westminster and his basketball and football men describe him as being "a great guy." A maker of stars, Washburn was responsible for the early training of Josko and Spotovet, Pitt. stars, Mervin of Tech, and Clark, Waynesburg's highest scoring court-ace.

Titans To End Season Soon

Play Waynesburg On Saturday Night And Carnegie Tech On Tuesday

FOUR TITANS ARE ENDING CAREERS

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, March 4.—George Washburn's Blue and White Westminster eagles will have everything to lose and everything to gain in their final two games of the season, both on their home floor, against Waynesburg's strong team Saturday, March 5, and against the Tartans from Carnegie Tech, Tuesday, March 8. Victory in these two games will give Westminster district honors, with 16 wins and 4 defeats for the season.

Waynesburg, Wolfpack has won 13 and lost 5 for the season, listing among their victims Duquesne, W. Wilkesville, Geneva, and West Virginia Wesleyan, and losing to Tech, W. and J. Akron, Westminster and Glenview Teachers. In 18 games, Waynesburg has massed a total of 681 points to average 38 markers a game to 34 for their opponents.

Playing in the Waynesburg lineup will be two seniors playing their last game for the Jackets, Boudin, center, and McKay, forward.

Again, two leading scorers in the district, Clark for Waynesburg, and Demo for Westminster, will try for evening's high-point honors. Earlier in the season, Demo taught Clark the fine art of tossing baskets on the Wolfpack floor by making 21 points to 9 for the tall Waynesburg collegian, a product of Grover Washburn, Titan coach, when he was at South High, Pittsburgh.

Probable starters for the Wolfmen will be Clark and McKay at forwards; Boudin, center, and Everhart and Penn, guards. All except Penn have had two years' experience on the varsity. For the Titans, starters will probably be Demo and Gilliland, forwards; Backus at center, and Miller and Krivosi, guards.

In the Titan lineup will be four Titan varsity players winding up their careers as Blue and White players, Krivosi, Backus, Gilliland and Demo. One of Coach Washburn's chief problems next year will be in building a team to replace these experienced varsity careers.

The Waynesburg game is scheduled for 8:15 in the Titan gym.

GERSON-K. PULASKI WILL PLAY TONIGHT

Two of the keenest hardwood rivals in the city will meet tonight at 8:30 o'clock on the K. Pulaski floor when the strong Gersons battle the K. Pulaski Big Five.

Walter Perch, manager of the Gersons, will send his strongest line-up against the Oaklanders. The Gersons have only dropped one battle at home to date. Mike Kulich, who was injured, may not play, according to Perch.

Jimmy Caus of Wilmington, Del. barely missed scoring world record by scoring out of 111 in 115 to 66 victory over Charles Seaback of Boston in world's shot billiards championships tourney at New York.

New Castle-Dormont Will Play Saturday

Will Battle At Pitt Stadium At 8:30 P. M., First Meeting Of Two Teams

Winner Of Ford City And Scott High Game Tonight Will Be Met By Winner

(Special To The News)

A couple of strangers, that is, athletically speaking, will clash at the Pitt stadium on Saturday night when New Castle High school "Red Hurricane" passers oppose the Dormont High five in a quarter-final W. P. L. A. tourney contest. The game will start about 8:30 o'clock.

New Castle and Dormont have never met in any kind of sport before. Little is known here of just how good the "Dormies" are. They looked good in the one game that any locals have seen them in, beating Dundas township, but that is all the dope that anyone here has on this Pittsburgh suburban school.

Starts To Perform
In the Dundas game it was the work of Lizen with 16 points and Westmore with 14 that kept the "Dormies" in the game. New Castle will have to watch this pair closely. The score was 40 to 34.

New Castle will have a couple of threats, also in "Blackie" Noera and "Kash" Kozela for the sub-banites to watch.

The New Castle team will leave here about 3 o'clock for the trip to Pittsburgh. The trip will be made in private cars, no doubt, just as last Saturday night. A stop will be made in Zelienople for supper.

A squad of 15 men will make the trip to the stadium. Head Coach Phil Bradenbaugh and Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner will have charge of the party.

Har-Brack Wins

Last night at the stadium Har-Brack high continued in the running for the title by handing a 39 to 33 defeat to Donora in a Class A engagement. Moore and Allen were the scoring stars with 33 of the points.

Tonight, Ford City, a pre-tourney favorite, will battle the North Bradock Scott High team in a Class A game at the stadium. The New Castle-Dormont winner Saturday will meet the winner of tonight's game next Wednesday at the stadium.

Falcons Defeat Youngstown Five

Score Is 53 To 32 In Game At Falcon Court, "Pluggers" Kozela Stars

The Polish Falcons were dumping field goals in with regularity last night at the Falcon court as they defeated the St. Peter and Paul Cadets of Youngstown 53 to 32.

The Falcons led in every period 8 to 24 to 17, 29 to 22, and 33 to 32. Henry "Bugs" Kozela was high pointman with 13, followed by Walter Kwolok and "Bus" Reiber with eight and nine respectively. For the visitors the work of Bacanie and Patrelle was the best.

Sunday the Falcons and Pulaski teams will battle at the Falcon hall in the Polish city championship series.

The Summary:
Polish Falcons: F. Kozela, f. 6 1 12; Pogorzny, f. 3 0 6; Dugan, f. 2 2 6; Mackiewicz, f. 0 1 1; W. Kwolok, c. 4 0 8; Ryglinski, c. 2 0 4; Reiber, g. 4 1 9; Kolodjaski, g. 3 0 6; G. Kendra, g. 0 0 0.

Catholics Trim Merchants, 40-30

Paced by the agile "Gobby" DeCaprio, who flipped 21 points, the Catholic basketball team won a 40-30 victory over the South Side Merchants, Thursday night on the Lincoln-Garfield hardwood.

Saturday at Sector High floor, the Cats play the Young Yanks.

The lineup:
Catholics: DeCaprio, f. 10 1 21; S. Haddad, f. 3 0 6; G. Yerag, c. 3 2 8; S. Matia, g. 1 0 2; Noera, g. 1 1 3.

Hillville Group Re-Elects F. Conti

Mahoning Sportsmen's Association Stages 1938 Election Of Officers

Gathering in the Hillville school recently, members of the Mahoning Sportsmen's Association held their 1938 election.

Frank Conti was re-elected as president. M. B. Conti was named vice president, Percy Calabrese secretary, and James Colucci treasurer. Directors: M. B. Conti, Tony Pepe, Felix Colucci and Frank Conti.

The group meets again next Wednesday evening when they will formulate plans for the entire year.

Slippery Rock To Play Grove City

GROVE CITY, March 4.—A fitting climax to an exciting basketball season will be the backyard battle between the Slippery Rockets and the Crimmon Grovers, that will ring down the curtain for both squads here Friday evening.

Boasting a superior record and one victory over the Crimmon, the Teachers will be favored, but will face an inspired Grove City squad in the finale. In the game at Slippery Rock last week, the Rockets had to fight off a determined Crimmon rally to hold on eight-point lead at the finish, and the return match here will be a ding-dong battle all the way.

Chance Ray won Fair Grounds feature event in Scratch drive.

Franklin Athletes Are Given Letters

The following lettermen will be back for another season of athletics: Tommie Paron, Charlie Ross, Tommy Robinson, Willie Thomas, Jimmie Cragg, Ralph Pugh and Bobbie Cooper. Letters also were given to Student Managers Billie Huffer and Tom DeVito.

N. Y. A. TEAM TO PLAY SALEM FIVE

Still snarling under the 39 to 34 defeat handed to them by the great New Castle N. Y. A. team coached by John Rubels, the Salem O. Spartans have secured the Polish Falcon hall here tonight for a return game with the South Siders.

Coach Rubels requests that all of the N. Y. A. boys report at the Falcon hall at 7:15 o'clock. The locals hope to take the measure of the Queens again tonight. The game should draw a big crowd to the Miller avenue floor.

Phillies Hope To Stay Out Of Last Place In League

By EVERETT C. GERRY
Philadelphia, Pa. (AP) —

PHILADELPHIA, March 4.—The perennially hopeful Phillies this year again will be battling manfully to keep out of the National League cellar.

Flushed by their 1937 "success," they edged past the Cincinnati Reds to finish seventh. Jimmy Wilson's perennially hopeful Phillies this year again will be battling manfully to keep out of the National League cellar.

The fact remains that the Phillies' squad reporting at Bloxi, Miss., for training pretty much resembled the 1937 aggregation. Excepting "Wild Bill" Hallahan, the side-sunder, newcomers on the squad are youngsters eager to break into the majors.

Obtain Hallahan
The acquisition of Hallahan gives the Phils three southpaws. The others are the durable Warner LeMaster and Al Smith (right hand). Also shod for a regular turn on the mound are Rube Walters, Claude Passeau, Syd Johnson and Hugh Mulcahy. For relief duty, there is slender Hal Kelleher.

Totling under southern skies for a job with the uncertain Phil pitching corps are rookies Robert Allen, brought in from Portsmouth in the Piedmont league, Elmer Burkhardt, who labored for Albany last season, Pete Savers, recalled from Baltimore, Tom Reis, the lanky Kentuckian who won 19 and lost nine for Wilkes-Barre in the NYP league, and Bill Ehrenberger, with Beaumont last season.

FOUR GAMES IN LEAGUE AT "Y"

There will be four games played in the Order Boys league at the "Y" on Saturday. The first game will be played in the afternoon at 4 o'clock and will send the First U. P. against the Saks.

At about the first game at 7:30 o'clock 1-4 the Eagles and Shamrock teams will play. The next game will have the F. J. Nott team out against the Crochons. The third game will send the Washington H-Y team into action with the Crusaders.

Left Hand Hurlers Are Hard To Find

Bush Leagues Not Producing Hubbell's, Gomez', Grove's Any More

In Few Years Time Most Of Star Southpaws Will Be Too Old To Pitch

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 4.—Left handed pitchers are becoming scarce, explain to Ed Barrow, generalissimo of the world champion Yankees, why lefties are hard to flush through the sticks.

"There are several reasons why Gene Semash, for one thing, the average kid these days is pretty smart and as a general rule if a kid is smart, he's not left handed."

Not Very Many
Barrow nearly choked laughing over that one. "That's on the level," Gene insisted earnestly. "There was Herb Pennock and there is Carl Hubbell. Now you name me one other lefty who wasn't a screwball."

Thus challenged, Barrow replied: "What about our own Lefty Gomez?"

"Well, what about him?" challenged Gene. "Seems like a leftie's gotta have a screw loose somewhere to be real good."

"Look around the American League and you can't find the star lefties on one hand. I mean, I mean, Gray and Wainwright and these two are good, but they're the first two lefties I can think of."

"It takes years to make a great lefty. For some reason or other, they never have natural control like a lot of young right handers do. They're like those tough-belted ponies. It takes years to train them. Of course, when you develop a great one you're really something."

Look at the National League, Hubbell, French, Brant and Wainwright are about their best and they're not so young either.

"Once the woods were full of them, but not now."

"The Senators have a great looking prospect in young Kookars and their boy Chase may make good. The Yanks have Wicker coming along. The Pirates have Duke Wade and Ostermiller and McKinnon of the Red Sox should be about due to arrive."

Melton And Grissom
"The Nationals came up with a swell pair last year when the Giants grabbed Melton and the Reds got Grissom. They're really great."

"Most of the clubs have one or more young lefties around, but nearly all of them are a long way off. I think the real trouble is that nowadays most young left-handers want to be first basemen or outfielders, especially if they're fast and can hit."

"If they were only half way smart, they'd become pitchers because there are plenty of openings for another Hubbell or Gomez. But no, they all want to be second catchers or Speakers. Oh, well, as I said before, if they were smart, they probably wouldn't be left-handed."

And with that off his chest, Gene stalked out in high dudgeon and his perennial white tie.

Buddy Baer To Meet Barlund

Brother Of Former Champion Will Battle Finlander In New York Ring

By HYPE IGEO
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 4.—Buddy Baer, scrapping brother of Max, the former heavyweight champion of the world, will meet Gunnar Barlund of Finland in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight.

and, for the time being at least, this fight will make or break Buddy.

When he listed Eddie Hogan clear off the floor with a right-hand up-punch and knocked him out in three rounds a few months ago, Buddy was loudly acclaimed as a real lantern man among the stalwarts scrambling for Joe Louis' crown.

Size will play an important part in tonight's epic drama and Baer, because of his tremendous size, will have a distinct advantage. He is unquestionably the harder puncher, as his record proves.

In my judgment his hitting will be the deciding factor and I look for him to win with a knockout along about the fourth round. I can hardly see Barlund passing the fight. If he does, he might go on gradually to win the decision.

Max's guess is that Buddy will win before the fourth round with a royal chance to make Barlund his 22nd first-round victim.

LOCAL FLOOR TEAM IN WARREN TOURNEY
New Castle's well known Kappus team is competing in the Finnish-American national tournament being staged in Warren, O.

The locals drew a first round bye and will play their first tourney game Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock. It was announced today.

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, March 4.—An old, notebook comes to light from the forgotten corner of a dusty desk drawer...there is a blurred pencil scrawl, "Joe Gould. Baer, dressing room, etc."...now what the dickens does that mean?...Aha, it comes back...the way Joe Gould harassed Max Baer before Baer met Jimmy and lost his title...how Gould aroused the clown and playboy every chance he got...annoyed him with the assurance that Braddock would win the championship...prodded him with sharp jibes.

Now the scene is changed a little...Gould is manager of Tommy Farr, who meets the same Baer, but not the same Baer if you believe all that Max says about having embraced the serious side of life as a family man, eschewing the role of coxcomb (Hay, not bad that eschewing the role of coxcomb, eh, chums?).

But that rule of ours, never pick a British heavyweight to win, still goes, even if Tommy Farr is managed by one of the sharpest fight men in the land...Buddy's brother Max to win by a knockout.

Two of our best amateur golfers will be unable to compete in the national open June 9 to 11 at Denver...Johnny Goodman and Charley Koosis...because they'll be playing with the Walker cup team at St. Andrews, Scotland, June 3 and 4.

If the interval between the tournaments could have been widened a day or two, they would be able to make connections, but they'd have to hurry...The British open will be played July 4 to 10 at Deal, England, which means that few Americans will compete over there...too much hurry.

Bobby Frigg, youthful Californian, stands out as likely No. 2 man on the team that will defend the Davis cup at Germantown, meaning, we probably will have a singles assignment to carry out...He has been coming along fast in the Florida tournaments, showing remarkable improvement in speed and the sureness of his shoes.

The No. 1, Grade A hope of the U. S. A. is Don Budge, of course, and his friends are not taking too seriously the defeats he suffered in Australia during the winter at the hands of John Bromwich...but there's a good chance the doubles team of Budge and Mako will be broken up...they have been beaten together too often.

Frank Kovacs is one of the better known prospects for the team...Budge thinks Frank eventually will become a champion...he's six feet two, covers a lot of court without seeming to extend himself a lot, and has some good shots...his recent showing at Miami Beach with Kovacs was regarded as a favorable indication for the summer sets.

Advices from New Orleans are disturbing...Bob Feller has picked up some "fancy manners," they say, and no longer uses the wrong fork, or spears bread with it...He's growing up...before we know it he'll be writing his reminiscences.

Sports Program Being Increased

Boyd Is Adding Number Of Intra-Mural Features At Westminster

FURTHER SCHEDULES WILL BE PRESENTED
(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, March 4.—Under the direction of Dave Boyd, physical training director at Westminster college, boxing, wrestling, and water-polo have been added to the intra-mural sports program.

Boyd is a former coach at Union high school, 1929-37.

Boyd expects ultimately to add also horseback riding, fencing, handball, speedball, squash, rodeo, and various winter sports to the athletic program of the college. He is planning an experiment to determine the value of physical education training to college students, by taking two groups of 25 students each, one group to receive two years' training and the other group no training.

Boyd's belief is that at the end of a year, students taking physical education will be more mentally alert, have better grades, health, and posture, and will be cleaner physically and morally than the untrained group.

Physical education classes under Boyd includes training both for exercise and also to learn one or more "carry-over sports," which can be played throughout life, such as tennis, ping-pong, bowling, handball, badminton and swimming.

In addition to his work in physical education, Boyd acts as assistant coach in varsity sports under head coach Grover C. Washburn.

Before coming to Westminster, Boyd, a graduate of Springfield college of physical education, Massachusetts, was health instructor at William Carey camp, Jamestown, L. I., and Life's magazine's camp at Gladstone, N. J.

Veteran Dan Ferris of A. A. U. predicted that at least four records would be broken in I. C. 4-A meet at New York tomorrow.

Acquisition of Marv Owen and Gerry Weker from Detroit viewed as putting Chicago White Sox over in American League pennant race this season.

Maeie scored head victory over Prop in feature race at Hialeah Park.

Hockey results: New York Rangers 4, Detroit Red Wings 3; New York Americans 1, Montreal Canadiens 1 (overtime); Chicago Blackhawks 3, Boston Bruins 2.

Outfielder Joe Medwick signed one-year contract with St. Louis Cardinals at reported salary of $20,000.

Bright printed blouses are used with matching pocketpooks. Very new and smart.

Rambling Around In Local Sports World

Max Baer's comeback...in our mail came a few inquiries about Max Baer's comeback this month.

Max's return to the ring brings back into the limelight one of the most discussed personalities in the sports world...Baer is having a difficult time convincing Joe Public that his comeback is on the "up-and-up"....the public remembers Max's antics several years ago when he tossed away the heavyweight title....they can't forget the "fighting bug" he believes Baer's encore is merely to boost the bank account....it is doubtful whether Max thinks he has an opportunity to regain that prestige he held a few years ago....they recall his feeble attempt against Joe Louis and his efforts against the aging Jim Braddock....against Louis, Max displayed stunts that he was ready to call it a day as far as fighting was concerned....with that thought still in mind, fans just can't seem to believe that Baer is sincere....his fight with Tom Farr this month will be one of the highlights of the March activities in sports land, however....

Did you know that...Honus Wagner, Pittsburgh Pirates coach, has quit as coach commissioner of the National Semi-pro Baseball Congress....Gunnar Barlund, who will mix with Buddy Baer, looks like a champ at the gymnasium....Eunice Barlow, sister of the heavyweight title Joe Louis, is a co-ed at Howard Univ. ....during the 20 years that Bob Kipphut has been Yale swimming coach, the Elis have lost only one dual meet....there are so many rules in hockey that even the players can't remember them all....Jimmy Wilson, of the Phillies, Joe Cronin, of the Red Sox, and Jimmy Dykes, of the White Sox, are the only playing managers in the majors....Sammy Donato, captain and star waterweight of the Penn State varsity swim team, is considered one of the finest prospects in collegiate ranks....he has never been defeated in a dual meet in three years of varsity and one year of freshman competition....to date he has won 19 bouts and fought two draws....since taking over the post in 1935, Charles Hoyt, Michigan track coach, has won nine indoor and outdoor Big Ten titles....Purdue has a new field house which seats 8,500 and costs about $500,000....DePaul University will play two football games on Sunday, two on Friday night, and one Wednesday afternoon in addition to its Saturday contests, this season....John Nicholson, Notre Dame track coach, and Olympic star of 1912, has been named referee for the Drake relays, April 29-30....

Cleaning out the question box...to Sim...according to statistics, there are about 10,000,000 bowlers in the United States....there are more persons engaged in bowling than in any other competitive game....to Joe the all time American League batting mark is 420 held by Ty Cobb and George Sisler....to Frank we are compelled to like the Red Hurricane, Saturday night, at Pitt stadium....to Ernest Stube Park is located in Philadelphia....

Pick-ups in the world of sports...the Cincinnati Reds have a roster of 50 ball hawks turning up at Tampa, Florida....Michigan's football coaching staff of eight men calls for a payroll of about $45,000....Fritz Crisler tops the list at about $10,500....they say around the Notre Dame campus that Knute Rockne, Jr., would only about 150 but entertains high hopes of making the Irish squad....they claim he runs like a gazelle in the open field....should New Castle high win the W. P. I. A. L. tourney, the Hurricane combination will be the only school to accomplish the feat three times....
